Identifies areas in need of improvement, and implements corrective measures.
11. Oversees a risk management program to control departmental losses, and monitors the results of the program. Assures all accidents or injuries involving department equipment or personnel are promptly and properly investigated. Evaluates the cause of accidents and establishes policies and procedures to avoid future incidents. Oversees the development of a safety program for the department.
12. Prepares departmental budget requests, conducts fiscal economic impact studies and cost/benefit analyses to prepare budget projections, and provides revenue and expenditure estimates. Administers and monitors funds appropriated by the governing authority for departmental operations and capital improvement programs. Oversees the operation of the general accounting system for the department to provide a record of liabilities, assets and financial transactions. Reviews and approves divisional operating budgets, and authorizes the expenditure of funds allocated for departmental operations. Assures that expenditures are made within the limits of budgeted funds and in accordance with statutes applicable to the purchase of equipment, supplies, and services. Draws up specifications for public bid.

13. Collaborates with supervisory personnel to locate, write requests for and administer grant programs to fund fire protection and prevention projects for the department.
14. Participates in the development and administration of a comprehensive personnel plan providing for compensation and benefits. Cooperates with boards and agencies whose rules or operations may affect the careers of fire department employees or the work of the fire department. Develops and implements a personnel recruitment program in accordance with EEO standards. Interviews candidates certified for appointment by the fire civil service board and makes hiring decisions. Reports employment, appointments, and other personnel actions to the board within the prescribed period, in accordance with civil service law. Cooperates with the board in maintaining seniority rosters in order to establish accurate promotional eligibility lists.
15. Holds formal meetings with subordinates in order to receive and provide information. Manages the work of subordinates, assists subordinates with establishing work priorities and goals, delegates assignments, outlines responsibilities, monitors the work pace and progress, and approves leave. Establishes performance standards and implements procedures for evaluating employee performance. Collaborates with subordinate supervisory personnel on decisions related to performance adjustment, including corrective or disciplinary action, job modification, or training opportunities.
16. Maintains employee discipline. Establishes an internal affairs review process. Conducts investigations or provides oversight of investigations of alleged violations against departmental policies and employee misconduct. Provides for employee grievance resolution procedures within the department and personally counsels employees who are experiencing work problems.
17. Evaluates departmental training needs, and provides for proper staffing and resources. Serves as an instructor for formal classroom training and arranges for outside instruction, as needed. Assists with smaller fire departments in surrounding areas, when required.
18. Oversees the general care and use of departmental equipment, vehicles, stations, grounds, and other related property. Provides for the maintenance of inventory and a process to purchase and store supplies for the department. Oversees the process of obtaining estimates on repair costs, arranging for repairs, and inspecting equipment or property after repairs to ensure proper working order.
19. Oversees and utilizes a system of information management in the administration of the department. Develops a report review system in order to analyze and evaluate the quality of fire services provided. Personally completes all forms, records, and reports, as directed. Collects, compiles and analyzes data from department records, legal sources and recognized authorities in order to write reports, solve problems and make management decisions.

20. Writes letters in answer to written or oral requests for information, or to address the needs of the department. Writes news releases, public service announcements, news articles, or other types of position paper for the department. Writes proposed legislation, ordinances, or regulations pertaining to the operations of the fire department.
21. Establishes effective fire ground procedures according to the Incident Command System. Provides for fire ground leadership and command, communications, size-up, equipment placement, personnel assignments, strategies and tactics. Personally responds to major incidents involving multiple alarms in which serious loss of life and property is anticipated. Monitors fire ground activity and evaluates fire ground decisions. Takes command when required. Works with fire ground and investigative personnel to share information and to determine whether fires occurring in the jurisdiction were the result of natural causes, carelessness, or arson. Commands Fire Department operations and coordinates with other rapid response operations involving special tactical operations.
22. Performs any other related duties.
